

Training Resources in the City of Pittsburgh

This training resources list is provided by Pittsburgh Community Services, Inc. (PCSI) as a community resource to help City of Pittsburgh residents explore career pathways, job training opportunities, educational programs, and workforce supports available throughout the region.

Programs and services included in this list are offered by independent organizations and may change over time. While we strive to keep this information current and accurate, listings, eligibility requirements, contact information, program availability, schedules, and services may be updated by providers without notice.

Information in this list is current to the best of our knowledge as of June 2026. We encourage individuals to contact organizations directly to confirm details and determine the best fit for their personal career goals and circumstances.
